COULDN'T DRIVE ON SUNDAY

DR. BUCHANAN NOT ALLOWED TO TAKE

OUT HIS HORSES. UNDER CROSS-EXAMINATION BY COLONEL JAMES IN HER SUIT AGAINST MRS. FOSTER, THE

PLAINTIFF TELLS OF THE RESTRIC-TIONS SHE PLACED UPON

HER HUSBAND. Mrs. Margaret P. Buchanan was on the witness-stand yesterday when the trial of her suit against Mrs. Kate M. Foster to recover $50,000 damages for alienating the affections of her husband, Dr. Alexander Buchanan, was resumed before Justice Bookstaver and a sury in Trial Term, Part VII, of the Supreme Court. Colonel E. C. James, counsel for the defendant, began cross-examining Mrs.

To his first questions, as to the coolness said to have existed between Mrs. Buchanan's mother and doctor, the witness gave only evasive answers, When asked as to the relations in the home between aerself and her husband, among other things witness admitted that after the doctor began she characterized as his "evil course" in 1887, she refused to let him take his horses out of the stable on Sundays or to have any but religious newspapers in the house on Sundays.

The following testimony was given regarding the colding of prayer meetings in Dr. Buchanan's house:

Q.—You did entertain a good many clergymen at your house? A.—Yes.
Q.—Didn't you have something of a passion for starting prayer meetings with young men in your house? A.—The doctor did.
Q.—Didn't you start prayer meetings in your house? A.—Yes.
Q.—And invite young men to these prayer meetings? A.—Yes.
Q.—Weekly? A.—Yes.
Q.—How long did you keep these prayer meetings up? A.—From October to June or July each year.
Q.—Did you have tea parties? A.—Yes.
Q.—Had prayer meetings at tea parties? A.—Yes.

Yes. Q.—What year were these prayer meetings held? A.—I can't recall the year. It was the year Moody held meetings in the Hippodrome.

Later in the day Mrs. Buchanan testified that after her husband met Mrs. Foster he would not join in the family worship, but became very profane, and when she endeavored to hold the regular family worship he would sing songs and disturb Under Colonel James's questioning Mrs. Buchanau admitted that she had removed the doctor's office from the front of her house, because she had told him that if he had an office in Mrs. Foster's house he could not have one in her house. She said that when Dr. Buchanan went out to make calls he had to carry his signs in his pockets to prevent her from removin : them.

At this point Mrs. Foster entered the courtroom and took a seat just instac the rail, where she listened attentively to Mrs. Buchanan's testimony Colonel James suddenly asked the witness: "Didn't you throw a bucket of slack lime over your hus-

"No."

Q.—What did you throw upon his head? A.—A bucket of modelling clay.

Q.—How much was there in the bucket? A.—A bout three pints.

Q.—What did you do that for? As a mark of affection? A.—No, to prevent him throwing me out of the window.

fection? A.—No, to prevent him throwing he out of the window.

Q.—Did you take up the carpet in the doctor's bedroom? A.—Yes.

Q.—Now tell me why the doctor was going to throw you out of the window? A.—My letters were being taken outof the letter-box and were thrown around after being opened, so I got a padlock and put it on the letter-box, and this made the doctor angry, and he was going to throw me out of the window.

Mrs. Buchanan testified that her husband would open the letters and write on them. "Opened by mistake," and then throw them on the floor.

Q.—Was Dr. Buchanan sixty-five years old at the time of bis death? A.—At the time of his alleged death.

"Is he not dead?" exclaimed Colonel James in evident surprise.

"Is he not dead."

evident surprise.

"I have no personal knowledge that he is dead."

calmly replied Mrs. Buchanan.

Mrs. Buchanan testified that on one evening in the fall—she could not recall the year—she saw Dr.

Buchanan and Mrs. Foster embracing.

"Will you swear they kissed?" asked the Colonel.

Mrs. Buchanan hesitated for a few seconds, and then said "Yes."

then said "Yes."
Q.—You had been watching from your window?
A.—Yes. Yes.

-Dr. Buchanan was at Mrs. Foster's house ss the street? A.—Yes.

This closed the cross-examination of Mrs. Buchanan, and Isaac N. Miller began the re-direct examination of the plaintiff. Nothing new was examination of the plaintiff. Nothing new was brought out.

After a recess Dr. Daniel H. Smith was called to the witness-stand. He testified that he met Dr. Buchanan and Mrs. Foster on a steamer three years ago on their way from Glassow to New-York, and that Mrs. Foster's treatment of the doctor was overbearing.

Tha Rev. Dr. William Wylle, of Philadelphia. was called to the stand. He was pastor of the First Reformed Presbyterian Church, in this city, and Dr. Buchanan was an elder in the church between 1874 and 1886. He said that Dr. Buchanan's home life was as happy as that of the ordinary Scotchman could be, and that his attendance at church was very regular, especially for a doctor.

doctor.

Mrs. Annie Anderson testified that she knew Dr. Buchanan and Mrs. Foster, and eight years ago was employed by Mrs. Foster at No. 53 West Thirty-eixth-st. She said that the doctor had his office at Mrs. Foster's then. The witness said that every day at noon Dr. Buchanan turned his money over to Mrs. Foster. She had seen him throw large rolls of bills into Mrs. Foster's lap, and had seen them drinking champagne every night in Mrs. Foster s room.

them drinking champagnets.

Mr. Miller then put in evidence the will by which Dr. Buchanan cut off his wife with $50 and his three daughters with $5 each. Mrs. Foster's petition for the probate of the will was also put in. Under the will she got all the property left by Dr. Buchanan except the small bequests to his wife and children.

The trial was adjourned until Monday.

CHARGED WITH SWINDLING A BARBER.

PAUL SCHMITTEN NEEDED THREE RAZORS AND

GOT THEM WITH A WORTHLESS CHECK. Paul Schmitten, who until recently has been guest at the St. Cloud Hotel, and who has been seen a good deal in the Tenderloin district in the last six months, was arrested yesterday by Central Office Detectives Charleton and Boyle on the charge of having passed a worthless check for $15 on Henri Poujol, a barber, at No. 1,147 Broadway. He pleaded not guilty.

Poujol testified that Schmitten had come to his shop and asked to see some razors. When he saw them the prisoner said he would take three. In payment he gave a draft for $15 drawn upon Timothy Hurley, a broker, at No. 115 Broadway, and received the difference, 39 in cash. The bank returned the Hurley, a broker, at No. 115 Broadway, and received the difference, $\mathbb{S}$ in cash. The bank returned the draft marked "N. G." Schmitten at first paid no attention to witness's letters, but finally promised to make good the loss. He falled to do so, and the witness had him arrested. Mr. Hurley added to this the testimony that there was no reason why he should honor a draft drawn upon him by Schmitten, whom he did not know.

Schmitten said he had met the complainant through members of the Racquet and Tennis Club. He had been working for Charles Osborne, a wine merchant, and the latter owed him some commission upon a sale of whiskey he had made. It was understood that this money was to be deposited with Mr. Hurley for his use, and with that understanding he had drawn the draft.

"I was very hard up at the time," said the prisoner, "and my income from England had been cut off, owing to the divorce proceedings brought there by my wife. I had to live some way."

"I suppose that was the reason you purchased the three razors," commented the magistrate.

"I had lost a number of those belonging to my set and had to replace them," was the reply.

The prisoner's lawyer offered to produce Mr. Osborne, to show that the statement about the money to be deposited with Mr. Hurley was true, but the magistrate said he was satisfied that it was a clear case of swindle, and that he did not care to hear any more testimony. He then held Schmitten for trial in $1,000 bail. The detectives showed a number of other worthless drafts, which, they said, the prisoner had unloaded. Henry Fisher, of No. 502 Sixth-ave, and a decorator doing business at Seventy-third-st. and the Boulevard, were each alleged to have been fleeced to the extent of $30. Schmitten has been before Magistrate Cornell on a previous occasion, charged with theft, but the case against him was withdrawn.

THE POTTER GARRISON SURRENDERS.

The five guards stationed at the Baptist Taberwhere the Rev. Dr. Daniel C. Potter has recently commanded a besieged garrison, were left in full possession yesterday. Sterling Potter, the Doctor's sick son, and Mrs. Ross, who is connected with the church mission, composed the garrison. The Doctor was evicted on Wednesday night. On Thursday the guards cut off the supplies to the parsonage, and all day long Mrs. Ross and Mr. Potter had nothing to eat. Toward nightfall the pangs of hunger impelled them to go in rch of provisions. The guards saw them depart with a smile, but when they returned the men sternparred the way. Dr. Potter headed the party, bu ly barred the way. Dr. Potter headed the party, but when he demanded admission to the house for his son, the guards said "Oh, no!" The Doctor banged on the door, but in vain, and the party at last marched round the corner to No. 20! East Tenth-st., where Dr. Potter had taken rooms.

The Doctor says he will sue the Baptist City Mission Boclety for damages, and will swear out warrants for assault against the guards who evicted him. He announced last evening that he would preach on Sunday morning in the Weish Congregational Church, No. 206 East Eleventh-st. In his sermon he will reply to the statement issued by the Baptist City Mission Boclety a few days ago.

SAGE WORDS FROM PARKER.

FELLOW-WORSHIPPERS SOME WELL-KNOWN THINGS ABOUT PRI-MARIES AND OTHER

TOPICS. Andrew D. Parker, who Mayor Strong and several others are sorry was ever appointed Police Commissioner of the city of New-York, met a small audience last evening at the Marble Collegiate Church, the church which Senator Platt attends, to deliver an address upon the epigrammatic theme, "The Primary Organization of Political Parties and the Importance of Good Citizens Taking Part The talk was delivered under the auspices of the Good Citizenship Committee of the Christian Endeavor Society, whose members might have talked back to Mr. Parker upon the subject of "The Discipline of the Police Force and the Importance of All Good Commissioners Endeavoring to Maintain It."

Neither Mr. Roosevelt nor Mr. Conlin was present, but Mr. Parker's private secretary took a stenographic report of the gems of language that fell from the lips of his employer, and it is to be presumed that Mr. Parker will present a copy of them to the chairman of the Police Board.

It was doubtless the weather that made Mr. Parker's audience so small, but those who were there listened politely while Mr. Parker told them things that they knew before. The Commissioner said in the first place that while it might not be complimentary to his audience to say so, yet he had been asked to spare no detail in his explanation of just what the different pieces of the machinery of party action were, and he acted on this request. He didn't think that a party was a pernicious or unnatural thing at all, he said as he wiped his brow—as if under the impression that he was having all the trouble there was in the lecture-room. A party was merely an association of individuals for the accomplishment of an object. He thought all good citizens should affiliate themselves with a party. ple of this or any other city going to do anyth If they simply stand off and let other people do it? This was so tough a conundrum that everybody

This was so tough a conundrum that everybody gave it up.

But the most interesting things Mr. Parker said were things that had nothing to do with his subject. For example, he told the good people of his audience that as a rule he didn't believe in tracts. He had seen in them some of the poorest platitudes (this word not to be spelled with a capital) that he had ever seen in all his life. He said of the disability of women to vote that in his opinion it was a strange sort of distinction drawn between one-half of the human race and the other. He was not one of those who believed that women were entirely incapable of intelligently making up their minds upon a political question. He thought the right to do so must be extended to them in every civilized community.

Mr. Parker also thought that the people of this countradiction. He also said that when he was green (he failed to give any more precise date) he speculated once in Wall Street and came out even. The audience was much interested, and asked some questions of the Commissioner. Some of them wanted to know when the primaries were held, and how to enroll themselves there. Mr. Parker referred them to the newspapers.

POLICE COMMISSIONER ANDREWS ILL.

EXPECTED AT THE BOARD MEETING TO-DAY, HOWEVER, WHEN THE DONOHUE CHARGES MAY BE TAKEN UP.

Police Commissioner Andrews was absent from office yesterday. He is suffering from a cold, and has been confined to his home for two but it is expected that he will probably be able to attend the Police Board meeting to-day. At this meeting the Board may take action on the charges of ex-Justice Donohue, who says that Chief Conlin has failed to close gambling-houses in this city.

BOY LETTER-BOX THIEVES.

THEY STOLE MONEY FROM LETTERS AND SPENT IT FOR CIGARS AND CANDY.

Three small boys, neatly dressed, whose parents are respectable, were committed to the care of the Gerry Society by Magistrate Brann, in the Harlem Police Court, yesterday morning, until Monday, when they will be examined on a charge of rifling letter-boxes. They are Robert Farrell, nine years old, of No. 40 West One-hundred-and-sixteenth-st. Max Taylor, fourteen years old, of No. 8 West One-hundred-and-sixteenth-st., and John Guterkunst, nine years old, of No. 10 West One-hundredand-Afteenth-st

For some time people living near the homes of the boys have complained to the Postoffice and to the police authorities that mail has been stolen their letter-boxes. Among those who complained was Apollo Castellanos, the secretary of the Cuban Relief Fund, who had lost some letters containing money. Mr. Castellanes and the Far-rell boy live in the same house. On Thursday afternoon Farrell was caught by a detective in the act of taking a letter from Mr. Castellanos's box. When arrested he confessed that he and the other two lads had robbed letter-boxes on several occasions. His confederates also acknowledged that they were guilty.

The money got by thefts, they said, was spent for cigars, candy and in visiting places of amusement.

Washington, on February 26. Dr. Purman was a guest at the Gilsey House when the watch was stolen. According to the confession of Mrs. Heidman, and her sister, Louise Rutter, a chain which was attached to the watch was given to Archer to be disposed of.

The hotel detective by this arrest thinks he has broken up a gang of petty hotel thieves, who have been operating in this city for some time. The women were employed to do scrubbing in various hotels. Several times they left their places suddenly and afterward small articles of jewelry and wearing apparel were missed. These, it is said, were always given to Archer to sell.

THE NAVY TO DEAL WITH CORWINE. Chicago, March 5 .- Regarding the arrest of Pay master Corwine, of the United States Navy, who was taken into custody in this city on Wednes day on the charge of being a defaulter, United States District-Attorney Black said yesterday: "While the offence is one against the statute, it is also a violation of the regulations of the Navy Department, which has its own machinery for punishment. The Navy court-martial is sufficient to pass upon Corwine and I can see no occasion for interference by my department." Corwine spent yesterday in a cell at the Harrison-st, police station. The prisoner will be turned over to the United States authorities.

FOUND DYING IN THE STREET.

HE TELLS AN AUDIENCE OF MR. PLATT'S AN EXPRESSMAN HELD FOR THE MURDER OF A MAN WHOM HE SAYS HE

MERELY PUSHED. Leopold Vogel, thirty years old, of No. 122 East Third-st., died in Believue Hospital yesterday afternoon from a fracture of the skull. He was found unconscious on the sidewalk at First-ave, and Houston-st. early yesterday, and as he appeared to be intoxicated he was taken to the Fifth-st. station. There it was found that he had a serious wound on the back of the head, and he was taken to the hospital, where he died a few hours later. Henry Hauser, an expressman, is now in custody charged with having caused his death.

Vogel moved yesterday from No. 196 Allen-st. where he had lived with some friends, to East Third-st. At his old address it was said that his hird-st. several weeks. CLOAKMAKERS FORMULATE DEMANDS.

MEYER JONASSON & CO.'S EMPLOYES MEET AND DECLARE FOR AN ADVANCE IN WAGES-

FEELING AMONG THE STRIKERS. A general shop meeting of the inside and ou employes of the cloak manufacturing firm of Meyer onasson & Co., at Twelfth-st, and Broadway, was ield in New Starlight Hall, No. 145 Suffolk-st., last A new scale of wages was formulated. which will be passed upon by the Executive Committee of the United Brotherhood of Cloakmakers, and on Monday it will be presented to the firm.
The advance in wages demanded by the cloakmakers is from 15 cents to 20 cents on a garment, and if the firm does not agree to the demand a strike will be declared. The cloakmakers are inensed because Meyer Jonasson & Co. discharged about a hundred inside employes. The firm de clares it did so because work was slack. The cloakmakers think that the employes were dis-charged to intimidate the rest of them from strikng. The cloakmakers at last night's meeting were strongly in favor of going out on strike to-day, and the leaders said that it might be impossible to restrain them from doing so. The firm and its con tractors employ about 1,500 hands. Following the demands made on Meyer Jonasson Co., demands will be made on all the other large loakmaking firms. Nearly three hundred cloakmakers employed by the Syndicate Cloak Company, at No. 250 Canal-st. went on strike yesterday. The firm at first refused to grant their demand for an advance of from 15 to 2) cents a garment, but afterward sent a representative to New Starlight Hall and finally agreed to give the strikers what they wanted, and the latter returned to work.

A general shop meeting of the employes of S. Beller, in Waverley Place, will be held on Monday to take action on the discharge of a cloakmaker named Hoffman. He was active in organizing the named Hoffman. He was active in organizing the shop employes, and it is said that the proprietor discharged him for it.

Martin Klein, general secretary of the Executive Committee of the United Brotherhood of Cloakmakers, said last night that the employes of Freedman Bros, had obtained the advance in wages demanded, and they returned to work yesterday. The employes of the other firms who were on strike also got what they demanded and returned to work.

Cemmissioner Johnson, of the State Board of Mediation and Arbitration, is in this city, and will represent the Board if occasion offers in the clothing-makers' strike.

SHIRTMAKERS FAVOR A GENERAL STRIKE. The Shirtmakers' Union held a mass-meeting in Walhalla Hall last night and decided to go on strike to-day. About 2,000 of them will go out. Many women and girls were at the meeting, and the speakers who favored a strike were loudly the speakers who favored a strike were load, cheered. About one-half of the shirtmakers were in favor of a general strike, and the other half were in favor of striking in a few of the shops at a time. The leaders were against a general strike, but were finally voted down. A demand of 15 per cent increase in wages will be made. The meeting lasted three hours. WORK ON SCHOOL BUILDINGS STOPPED.

The Board of Walking Delegates tried to adjust the trouble between the various labor organizations, but falled, and a general strike followed. About three hundred workingmen laid down their tools. The trouble threatens to spread, and other strikes are likely to occur on a schoolhouse which has 1,500 pupils, and on the Bank of Commerce, at Cedar and Nassau sts.; on the National Central Bank, and the New-York Life huildings.

here yesterday afternoon which insure the forma-tion of a company to operate a line of steamers from this city to Mexico and the South American ports. For the present the boats will sail from ports. For the present the boats will sail from New-Orleans and Pensacola, and Tampico, Mexico, and ports in Venezuela, Colombia and the West Indies. The Ward Steamship Company will be at the head of the enterprise, which will require an outlay of about $2,000,000. It is expected that in the near future boats will be constructed to ply direct between St. Louis and the Southern republics. The negotiations call for the beginning of traffic by May 1.

MRS, SAPORTAS'S TROUBLESOME ADMIRER

HE WRITES TO HER AGAIN AND IS ARRESTE WHILE AWAITING HER IN A CHURCH. Joseph Frazer, the groom over whom Magistra-

Kudlich suspended a sentence of three months' imprisonment three weeks ago, when the fellow w arraigned in Yorkville Police Court on the charge of annoying Mrs. Alvina Saportas, of No. 931 Madisonave., was again arraigned in Yorkville Police Court yesterday, charged with continuing the annoyance This time Magistrate Flammer held him under $500 ball to keep the peace for six months and also committed him to Bellevue for examination as to his sanity. Frazer was employed as a groom in Port Chester by a family named Palmer, but was discharged for writing letters to Mrs. Saportas. He was afterward arrested, and when arraigned in court asserted that he had believed Mrs. Saportas to be unmarried. If he had known that she was married, he said, he would not have written to her or attempted to see her. Upon his promise to cease the annoyance sentence upon him was suspended.

Saportas, who is the daughter of the late Martin B. Brown, who did much of the city's printing, was made ill by continually being annoyed by Frazer. After being discharged Frazer recently b gan writing letters to Mrs. Saportas again, and the annoyance worried her so much that she again became iii. Yesterday afternoon Frazer called at Mrs. Saportas's home again, and handed the maid, who opened the door, a letter for Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Saportas's mother. He said he would wait on the steps for an answer, but finally went away. Only the women of the household were in at the time. When Mr. Saportas, who is a member of the American Horse Exchange, returned home he was told of Frazer's actions and shown the letter, which asked that if "Miss Brown" was not married some one might meet Frazer at St. Vincent Ferrers' Church on Friday morning at 8 o'clock to take him to see her. Mr. Saportas took the letter to Captain Grant of the East Sixty-seventh-st, police station, and deceives Herliny and Keating were sent to the annoyance worried her so much that she again be tectives Heriny and Reating were sent to the church.

The detectives saw Frazer, whom they knew, enter the church and sit down in a pew near the door. The morning services were being conducted at the time, and Herlihy entered the church alone, with the intention of arresting the man quietly. Frazer saw him approaching, however, and jumped over the partition dividing the pews to escape by the door on the other side of the church from the detective. The services were disturbed and some excitement was caused, but Frazer quickly got into the vestibule, where he was caught by the detective outside.

At the police station Frazer said he was only waiting in the church for "Miss Brown."

AN ORPHAN ASYLUM'S REPORT. The annual report of the Board of Trustees of the St. Vincent de Paul Orphan Asylum, No. 215 West Thirty-ninth-st., shows that there were 86 boys and 134 girls in the institution on January t. In the last year 73 children left the institution, some to go to their friends or relatives, and others to homes found for them. Among the gifts received were $720 from Adrian Iselin, $150 from Miss Georgie Iselin, $25 from Mrs. E. T. Keane, and $50 from Antonio E. Terry. The receipts were $25,325 %, and the expenditures about $18,000.
